June 4, 1904, jelletine mixing house—Alex McCullough, Jim Smith and two Chinamen.

Two small explosions in 1905—Gus Kopen, H. Wilson and Jim Kelly.

Feb. 1, 1908—Quinine packing house and three carloads of dynamite—W. W. Stillwell, J. Rodrigues, J. Dias, John Silvera and 23 Chinamen.

(Special to the NEWS.)

PINOLE, Aug. 31.—Two more victims were added to the death toll of "accidental explosions" at the Hercules powder plant here today. They are: Harold Bennett, 26 years of age, engineer, and Bert Talbot, 30 years, a switchman.

With a terrific roar, which was heard in all of the bay cities, two carloads of dynamite, being loaded in a consignment for war use, exploded shortly after 9 o'clock this morning. The cause of the explosion has not been determined, although the supposition here is that a box of dynamite fell from the car and was run over by the train wheels. The cars were demolished and a number of buildings of the plant ruined. Officials of the company refuse to give an estimate of the loss, which will probably run high into the thousands of dollars.

The train, consisting of two cars, drawn by a small compressed air engine, were leaving the packing house on the way to the magazine room. Practically every window in the plant as well as in the vicinity for several miles around, wah broken. Employes of the plant were thrown to the ground, but none sustained any serious injury.

Just before the train had started on its journey the boxes had been inspected and everything was reported "O. K." A moment later and the explosion occurred.

The two victims were horribly mangled. Only portions of the bodies have been found. Portions of the remains were scattered over a large radius of ground.

Bennett was unmarried. He is survived by a mother and two brothers, Frank and Bert, both of this place.

Talbot had been working at the plant for but several months and no relatives had been located at a late hour tonight.

The remains were removed to Martinez late today.

Wild rumors as to the cause of the explosion were circulated. Some declared that seven German employes had been discharged and that they had taken this means for revenge. This rumor was found to be without foundation. Another declared that an aeroplane stolen from Oakland had passed over the yards and dropped a bomb.

The most plausible report is that one of the boxes fell from the moving car and was crushed under the wheels.

PROMINENT MEN TO BE GUESTS OF THIS COUNTY NEXT SUNDAY

A party of 25 or more will spend next Sunday in Contra Costa county as the guests of Exposition Commissioner R. R. Veale. Prominent among the visitors will be the commissioner from Argentina and others, including representatives of the press at the exposition.

An hour will be devoted to a tour of Richmond, the party leaving Martinez on the 10:45 a. m. train. At this point they will be met with autos and taken through the Shell and Mountain Copper plants and through Concord, Pittsburg and Antioch to Brentwood, where the big irrigation system will be shown them. Lunch will be enjoyed at Byron Hot Springs and upon the return the party will be taken to Mt. Diablo Park club to dinner, returning via the O. A. & E. from Walnut Creek.

Arnold many years Arnold has been an active worker in the ranks of the Australian societies and his activities have resulted in great and successful results. He decided to retire from active service and last night the societies, to show their appreciation of chis services, presented him the loving cup.

Playground Question May Be Placed on Ballot at the Special Hall Site Election

City Attorney D. J. Hall is a very busy man. Yesterday, upon his return from Martinez, where he was called to testify at the Matson trial, Hall marched to the City Hall and proceeded to bury himself, literally, figuratively and workatively, into several matters of importance. Said matters are:

Preparation for the calling of the special election for the selection of a City Hall site.

To discover the possibility of placing the matter of playgrounds on the same ballot.

"I am not yet quite sure whether this can be placed on the ballot," said Hall yesterday afternoon, "but I will do my best to have it placed before the people at the coming election."

This is certainly an important matter to the people of Richmond and every taxpayer and voter should begin immediately to investigate the feasibility of voting bonds for these places of recreation.

That the city is united for playgrounds is evidenced from the petitions which are being circulated and from the scores of inquiries which are being received daily at the office of the Daily News.

The Daily News sincerely hopes that all readers will investigate this proposition thoroughly. Profit by the examples presented by Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland and other cities, who delayed in the purchase of grounds and equipment for playgrounds and parks. Remember that Richmond has no parks or playgrounds and remember that there are many ideal sites which can now be obtained at a very reasonable figure.

Why wait until later and get that extra boost in price which will develope as the property increases in value? Richmond will eventually have playgrounds, anyway, and this is one investment that should be made NOW.

The Daily News does not ask its readers to go into this matter with their "eyes closed." The Daily News is convinced that if every property owner and taxpayer would investigate, it would be a unanimous vote in favor of playgrunds and parks.

Investigate and be convinced that Richmond needs playgrounds and parks and needs them NOW.

LIBEL TRIAL MAY CLOSE TODAY

"Jean Martin told me that though she hadn't actually handed money to Arnold, she had left it where she knew Arnold would get it."

That was a striking portion of the testimony given by Miss Lola Strong in the Matson libel case yesterday.

Miss Strong testified that she had been in the "White House" five weeks, that she had left the underworld and had obtained work.

Pressed by the prosecution, she testified to the conversation held at the breakfast table in the "White House" when several of the women of the house and Jean Martin discussed Arnold.

She testified that on the day Jean Martin had made an affidavit, printed in the local papers, that she had never paid Arnold bribe money, the Martin woman had said over the telephone, "Send up the machine and I will come right up." On this day, said Miss Strong, Jean Martin explained, "Well, I never paid Arnold graft money directly."

Councilmen Penry and Lane both testified that they, accompanying with Councilman Fietas, went one to the White House after a council meeting in the fall of 1913 to investigate the persistent rumors that Arnold had been trying to put over a deal with Jacobs.

They testified that Jean Martin then told the three of them of the now famous $20,000 real estate deal. Both testified that the Martin woman told them Arnold had promised her protection if she would buy the property. Both denied, when questioned by the prosecution, that the council had considered forming a new segregated district. This, coupled with Ludewig's testimony, punctured the story of the prosecution that the Jacobs-Arnold-Martin negotiations were entered into because the council was planning a new segregated district.

Penry testified that Sergeant Ruiz had been permitted to resign, though grave charges had been brought against him. In answer to the question, "He was permitted to resign exactly as Arnold was by the council?" he answered that he had.

Attorney H. J. Wildgrube testified of the visit made by him and Richard Williams to the White House when evidence against Arnold was gathered and also of the campaign committee meetings.

He testified that James Snee had declared that in the matter of publishing the expose he "would abide by the majority." Wildgrube emphatically denied that T. O. Carman had ever said that whether or not the article was true it was good politics.

Charles F. Washburn, W. F. Policon, Charles Brown and T. O. Carman all testified that there was no truth in that testimony given by Snee.

City Attorney D. J. Hall, for the prosecution, testified as to the general circulation of the News. He is to be used in the rebuttal.

Councilman Hartnett also testified as to the circulation of the News. He will be brought back on the stand in the rebuttal.

Sergeant V. A. Phillips testified that Arnold had ordered him in making a report on the robbery of Fay Tyson, inmate of the White House, to write "Fay Tyson of Pinole," so as to "keep the Martin house out of the papers."

Inspector Betts testified that he had been sent by Sergeant Ruiz to collect a bill for Jean Martin. Further questioning along this line was blocked by the prosecution.

Sergeant E. Jennings testified as to the famous raid of the White House on March 3, 1914.

All evidence will probably be before the jury today. The case will go to the jury either this afternoon or tomorrow morning.

TO BEGIN WORK ON BIG CONTRACT

F. [illegible], local contractor, will leave [illegible] operations in Sacramento in a [illegible] days on a $20,000 contract for the laying of a sewer for that city. Meyers yesterday dispatched a huge Austin ditching engine to the capital. He is also having another larger machine sent up from Los Angeles to assist on the work, which will take about three months.

NARBETT GETS BIG CONTRACT.

Architect James T. Narbett has been awarded the contract of designing a large two-story concrete building for LaSell company at Martinez. The firm conducts a large general store.

Con Healey of the Lennox Hotel was treated yesterday by Dr. Hall Vestal for a dislocation of his left arm, sustained while playing baseball.

DID IT FOR SON'S SAKE HE SAYS

J. C. Campbell, a carpenter employed by the Standard Oil company, residing at 227 Second street, was arrested yesterday afternoon on a warrant sworn to by Assistant District Attorney Wilbur S. Pierce, charging cruelty to his 13-year-old son, William. Campbell was released last night upon $400 bail. Young Campbell was discovered yesterday morning by T. C. Marks, 275 Second street, a barber, tied with iron chains. Marks notified Officer Roy Kreamer and Humane Officer D. W. Calfee.

Pierce then swore out a warrant in Police Judge William Lindsey's court.

Campbell following his release last night said:

"I have lived in Richmond five years and I have never done anything contrary to the law. My son, William, is troubled with his eyesight. I have spent much time and money trying to cure him of his affliction. The boy has relapses when at play and at any moment he is liable to go blind if allowed to run about the streets. I tied him up with a chain on the porch in order that he might be able to play. I have three daughters, attending the local grammar school. Before they leave in the morning they prepare his breakfast and give him something for his dinner. They return home in the afternoon after school. I did not chain the boy up because of a mean spirit. Drastice measures to keep him from playing on the street were necessary and this was the only course I could pursue. I have never treated any of my children harshly.

NEW BIPLANE CAN CARRY EIGHT HUGE TORPEDOES IS THE REPORT

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 31.—Glenn H. Curtiss is building a giant biplane capable of carrying at least eight torpedoes equal in power to that which sank the Lusitania. Up to this time 100 pounds has been the limit of weight of the bombs dropped from aeroplanes of the small military types in service on both sides. Aiming of the bomb has been a matter for guessing, but Britain's giant flying machine will carry a bomb gun.

Its details are a military secret, but it has developed surprising accuracy. This gun makes it possible to hurl a projectile containing a 200-pound charge of gun-cotton at an enemy from a height of a mile or more.

The sights make allowance not only for distance, but for the speed of the aeroplane, which may reach 75 miles an hour, throttling down to 40 miles for landing.

The bomb tube is of light steel. It will be fired through an opening in the bottom of the aeroplane body or car. Compressed air will supply the "kick" behind the bomb as it leaves the aeroplane, and the force of gravity will take care of it thereafter as it plunges at the target.

The Curtis aircraft gets its great lifting power from its enormous biplane wings, and two motors of 160-horsepower each, the largest in use on this side of the Alantic. Its wings spread nearly 100 feet from tip to tip and measure nine feet across. The upper plane is nearly ten feet above the lower wings.

From the fighting line in France to the German capital and back again is little more than 900 miles and would require about 16zz pounds of gasoline for the flight of 12 hours.

The aviators would still have room aboard with them for about 1000 pounds of gun cotton or dynamite bombs, to be presented with their compliments.

Instead of a boat for use in alighting on the water, the new craft has a wheeled carriage of massive frame, for use on land. Men and fuel tanks, explosives, instruments and guns will be sheltered in an enclosed body 45 feet long, resembling a torpedo in shape, set between the upper and lower planes.

IT WILL NOT DO ANY GOOD, "GENTLEMEN."

Several "would-be" newspapers of the county are clamoring for recognition in the columns of the Daily News. They are hurling all sorts of uncomplimentary comments at the Daily News, which from their grammatical construction appear to have been perpetrated by the office boy of the stablishment.

Now the Daily News regards the space of this newspaper altogether too valuable to waste in giving these persons, who are a disgrace to the good name of newspaperdom, publicity.

The Daily News is here to stay. It has a circulation greater than that of any other newspaper published in Contra Costa county. And it represents a principle!

AN ABLE CITY ATTORNEY.

Mr. D. J. Hall, the city of Richmond has one of the best city attorneys in the country. Mr. Hall is not a politician. He does not seek to make himself a power. But Mr. Hall is a booster for Richmond. He does not do his boosting with mere words. He is employed to handle the duties of the city attorney, and he certainly does them well. If there is an opportunity to save the city an unnecessary expense, Mr. Hall will take advantage of that opportunity. Yesterday he began investigating the possibility of placing on the ballot the playground matter. He will endeavor to have that proposition placed on the ballot at the next election—that for the City Hall—eliminating the extra expense of a special bond election. He will succeed, too.

AN ARGUMENT FOR PEACE.

Several lives were lost yesterday in a powder explosion at Pinole. To Richmond and cities in the vicinity the news of the tragedy came as a great shock. It was discussed as a "horrible and terrible" accident. But it taught an object lesson. A terrible one, it is true, but just the same it was a lesson. It gives an idea of what war is. The bodies, according to the press dispatches, "were mutilated beyond recognition." In Europe, hundreds of thousands of men are being killed and mutilated. When it is taken into consideration that this accident in which but a few men perished is considered "horrible and terrible," can anyone describe, or even picture or imagine, the horrors which are now a daily occurrence in Europe?

RUG MAKER'S DAUGHTER FEATURE OF BILL AT RICHMOND TODAY

A wonderful combination of Turkish art and of an exciting plot make "The Rug Maker's Daubhter," playing today and tomorrow at the Rilhmond, one of the finest features ever produled by Bosworth, Inr. Added to this ih the fact that no less a star than Maud Allen, whose interpretative danling has been of world-wide interest, is the principal in the play. This is the first appearance in moving pictures of the famous star, whose dances from Beethoven, Chopin, Grieg and other masters and whose revivals of Greek dances have made her name famous in every quarter of the globe.

In the story of the play Bob Van Buren falls in love with a beautiful Turkish girl, whom he rescues from robbers. He plans to elope with her to America, but is intercepted by his Turkish rival, who puts Bob in a dungeon. Demetar herself sails to America, where she is pursued by the wily Osman, but Bob escapes and rescues her just when a forced marriage is about to takep lace.

With the same bill are shown a Keystone comedy, "Gussie's Backward Way," and a two-rele drama, "The Flooating Death."

PULSE BROTHERS ARE HOST AT BIG DINNER

John and Harry Pulse entertained a number of friends Monday evening at an elaborate dinner at the Pulse home, Tenth street and Nevin avenue. Those present were: C. J. Crary, L. J. Tonce, Fred Caudle, A. Heald, C. J. Shepherd, L. C. Pontine, M. Waggenhefm and Ivan Conn.

TWO BUCKS FALL BEFORE TERRIBLE SARGE McGOWAN

Sergeant McGowan of the local police department returned yesterday after a hunting trip in the vicinity of Napa. McGowan bagged two bucks on the excursion. He also engaged in a hand-to-hand tussle with a giant bear and captured a number of fresh water whales.

He will begin his daily pilgrimage to the west side station today.

WHIST TOMORROW NIGHT.

A committee consisting of Mrs. John Lucas, Mrs. John F. Galvin, Mrs. H. Herkner, Miss Florence Tavolara and Mrs. Edward Fillon has charge of the whist party to be held tomorrow evening by the ladies of St. Mark's church in the assembly hall.

HAPPENINGS IN THE SPORTING WORLD :

THIS IS A TALE OF SWEET REVENGE; RAILROADERS AND OIL MEN TO MEET ON FIELD

Willie Luce will lead his tribe of champions against the Western Division club of the Southern Pacific at the local park next Sunday afternoon. No, friends, while this contest does not appear to have any parallel in our class, let us here inform you, gentle reader, that the contest is something of a battle of rival clans. It seems that the manager of the oil club is a friend of a certain oil dispenser at the Standard Oil yards in our fair city.

These two lads got into an argument the other evening, which led to a discussion of baseball. The railroader passed several innuendos relative to the class of the Richmond Elks. A riot call prevented any bodily damage, but the Richmonder returned to his home, a gleam of fiendish delight in his cold, gray eyes.

Going to the telephone, which occupied quarters on the side of the wall, our hero called up Bill Luce.

"Say, Bill," he said, "if you love me, send your bunch against that bunch of railroad tramps and massacre 'em. The more runs you score the more I'll enjoy the proceedings."

Bill agreed. And that's why next Sunday will witness a contest in which a railroad and an oil company will be pitted against each other on the side lines. Both "countries" will be well represented and the fans who desire to see some real hot rooting should not miss the opportunity to be present at this match.

The tie travelers have a fast aggregation of tossers and they should give the locals a good time of it. That is why a big gang of engineers, baggage smashers, firemen, roundhouse men, etc., will be amongst those present to hand Bill and his gang the laugh—should they lose.

And should the Elks win, one mighty laugh will go up from the assembled oil dispensers. In the meantime, the "villain" responsible for this activity sits in his office at the Standard Oil refinery, emitting chuckles of rapture and smiling at the fate which awaits the railroaders at the session next Sunday afternoon at Luce's park.

CHAINS UP BO

I have denied myself the luxuries of life in order to devote my money to securing a cure for his ailment."

Referring to his arrest in 1914 on a warrant from Sacramento, Campbell said: "I had been sending $35 a month to Sacramento to keep the children. They notified me that I must send $50 or they would not care for the children any longer. I answered and said that in that case I would not pay that much and they could send the children here. My arrest followed, but I was released immediately upon my arrival in Sacramento."

The Western Pipe and Steel Company of this city has been awarded a contract to erect a 25,000 barrel storage tank for the Associated Oil company at Avon. The price is in the neighborhood of $6000.

Sixty Initiated Into the Oriental Degree Mysteries

"Ask" Zeb Knott. "Ask" K. Williams. "Ask" W. H. Mallory.

Sounds kind of foolish, doesn't it? Well, that's what we were "asked" to publish, and we didn't have the nerve to "ask" what all this "asking" was all about.

After getting down through that much the reader will probably begin to "ask" what we were doing last night.

Well, here's the secret. Last night sixty handsome candidates were initiated into the mysteries of the Oriental degree of Modern Woodmen of America at W. O. W. Hall. Talk about fun! Why, those sixty candidates and the several hundred who witnessed the ceremony just naturally oozed smiles and laughter. It was the biggest event of the year "Ask" any one who was present at last night's affair. This is all we know about it.

We do know that they had a great banquet and that 100 enjoyed that banquet. We do know that everyone had a great time. Here's the committee in charge: W. H. Mallory (chairman), Thomas Thayer and Charles Washburn.

Visitors were present from Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda. The band and drill team of Greater Oakland Lodge were present, as was the drill team from Alameda.

Whist Party to Be Held Tomorrow Night By Clerks; Union Comments

More than ordinary interest is being manifested in the whist party to be held Thursday evening by the local Clerks' Union. Excellent prizes will be awarded the high point getters and an energetic committee working on the affair reports that indications point to a large attendance. Refreshments will be served. The public is cordially invited.

STEAMFITTERS MEET.

A well attended and enthusiastic meeting of Steamfitters and Helpers' Local No. 436 was held last night at the Labor Temple. President J. A. Shaffer presided. A report was received from the Matson Defense League committee. C. B. O'Hara, publisher of the Daily News, gave a short talk.
